

Special Programme for the GMPA Graduates: Asia Development Institute Advanced Policy Development Programme 2015 Seminar on June 15

The Asia Development Institute, Graduate School of Public Administration, Seoul National University, will convene 2015 Advanced Policy Development Programme and call for papers on the topics of public policy and administration in relation to social and economic development.

We are particularly pleased that the ADI will invite some of the Alumni of Global Master of Public Administration Programme to the APDP Special Seminar in order to share their experience in public policy related to economic and social development at home countries. The ADI is particularly intended to invite papers that will illustrate the transformative experience of the GMPA Alumni after returning to work at home. How did the academic training through the GMPA Programme at Seoul National University enable the Alumni to help their countries development?

Those who would like to participate in the APDP seminar, please send us the title of the paper and short abstract by May 18 (Mon), 2015. The ADI will select the papers for the conference.

○ ESSAY TOPIC:

How did the academic training through the GMPA Programme at Seoul National University enable the Alumni to help their countries development?

- Specific subjects can be narrowed down to your field of interest.
- Essay may include, for example, methods of application, obstacles which have been encountered in the process of application, ways to overcome those difficulties, etc.

○ ELIGIBILITY: All GMPA Graduates working in public sector

○ HOW TO APPLY: A 3,000 word essay in English (12pt, Single Space, 5~7 pages, MS word)

○ CLOSING DATE: May 18 (Mon), 2015

○ Methods of Submission: Via email [snugmpa@gmail.com]

○ Logistics:

The ADI will select five or six GMPA alumni for the conference and will provide one round trip airfare (economy class) to Korea, hotel and meals to make a presentation at the APDP Seminar to be held on June 15 (Mon), 2015 at the Graduate School of Public Administration, Seoul National University.

○ CONTACT DETAILS: snugmpa@gmail.com

Asia Development Institute
Graduate School of Public Administration
Seoul National University